

66 SMALL MOMENTS Adriaan Landman

The latest exhibition of work, entitled 66 SMALL MOMENTS, by Adriaan Landman will be opened on Sunday, 1 September 2024, at 11:00 in La Galleria, 7 Breë Street, McGregor, by Prof. Dr. Piet Oosthuizen.

This exhibition of 66 mixed media miniatures, the first in 13 years, explores many of the themes he used in previous exhibitions. His technique consists mainly of work in coloured pencil, pencil and oil on acid free Fabriano paper. The current exhibition consists mainly of landscapes, especially Namakwaland, portraits, figure studies and still life paintings.

He studied at the University of Pretoria in Art Education and later in History of Art and Curriculum Studies which culminated in a PhD on the development of creative thinking in the teaching of young art students. His Masters Degree in History of Art was written on the symbols used in the work of the South African artist Judith Mason.

He debuted with mixed media artworks at the Beuster Skolimowsky Gallery in Pretoria in 1981.

Several solo exhibitions followed after his debut. Highveld Images (1983) at The South African Association of Arts in Pretoria, two exhibitions in Potchefstroom (The Passion (1984), Moments of People (1985) an exhibition in Kimberley (1987), Mannequins and Decoys (1987) at the Frieda van Schalkwyk Gallery in Pretoria, Face to Face (2008) Welgemeend, Cape Town to mention but a few. Many of his works are included in private and public collection around the world.

He also illustrated two poetry anthologies, Links of Silence (1983) and Verre Landskappe (1985) by Prof Dr Israel Ben Josef, professor at Unisa in Hebrew. Ben Josef translated his own Hebrew poetry into English and Afrikaans poems into Hebrew.

After 22 years in art education he was involved for several years in the restaurant industry. In 2006 he decided to go back to the educational sector and started to teach Art at High School Jan van Riebeeck in Cape Town. Later he was appointed head of the Art School at the College of Cape Town. During this period he started to exhibit frequently again, locally as well as abroad.

Adriaan Landman published many academic articles which include research on affective learning, curriculum development for art education, history of art and was also co-author for a book, In Retro (2013), on the work of the South African abstract artist Hannatjie van der Wat.

In 2009 he was promoted as head of Langeberg Secondary School in Robertson. The last 13 years he mainly dedicated himself to the education and upliftment of his society. He is an avid reader of literature and poetry and decided after retirement to become involved in the Poetry Festival in McGregor. He is also a keen gardener, cook and classical music lover with a special interest in cello music and the human voice. Retirement gives him the opportunity to paint fulltime again. The 66 paintings on display co-inside with his 66th birthday and the pleasure to be a creative artist again.
